

NEW AMERICAN DUCHESS.

May Golet Weds the Eighth Duke of Roxburgh.

RICHLY SIMPLE CEREMONY.

Recent Death of Sir Michael Herbert Curbs Festivities—Over a Million in Presents—Greatest Social Event in New York in Years.

New York, Nov. 11.—Miss May Golet, only daughter of the late Ogden Golet and probably the richest heiress in America, has been married at St. Thomas' church, fifty-third street and Fifth avenue, to Henry John Innes-Ker, eighth duke of Roxburgh.

The wedding, the social event of the season and the most brilliant international marriage since Consuelo Vanderbilt became the Duchess of Marlborough, was marked by less elaborateness than would have been had it not been for the untimely death of Sir

THE NEW DUCHESS OF ROXBURGH.

Michael Herbert. The simplicity, however, was of a sort to give to the dictionary definition of the term added and contrary meaning.

The decorations in the church were most artistic and so arranged that the large auditorium was reduced to the size of an English chapel, for only 150 guests had been bidden. Great banks of palms lined the inclosure where the favored ones sat.

With the dark green of the palms as a background great white chrysanthemums were used in profusion, and there were deluges of lilies and orchids and roses and hanging baskets filled with English primroses.

Promptly at 2 o'clock the ceremony began. The procession was led by the vested choir of 150 voices, singing "O Perfect Love." The great Huthings organ was used for the first time. Following the choir came the bridesmaids. They were Lady Isabel Innes-Ker, the duke's sister; Miss Theres Iselin, Miss Marion Haven, Miss Alice Babcock, Miss Beatrice Mills, Miss Anne Thayer, Miss Martha Johnson and Miss Pauline Whittier.

Mrs. Golet had decided that the sight of the ushers walking down the aisle two by two would have a grow-some suggestion, and so, after the guests were seated, the ushers took seats in the nave of the church, taking no part in the procession.

The ushers were Harold Earing, Harold Brassy, Robert Walton Golet, William Woodward, Rogers Winthrop and Henry W. Bull.

Miss Golet entered the church on the arm of her brother, Robert Golet, and proceeded to the chancel steps, where they were met by the duke. There the betrothal service was read by the rector, the Rev. Dr. Stiles. When it was ended the duke and his bride and the best man, Captain Reginald Ward, walked to the altar, where the ceremony was performed by the rector.

Throughout the service the anthem, "Sweet Is Thy Voice," was sung, sotto voce. The recessional hymn was "To Thee, O Father." As the bridal party left the church Mendelssohn's wedding march was played.

Five hundred guests attended the reception at the Golet mansion in Fifth avenue, which followed the church ceremony. The flower of New York society and many notable persons from abroad were among the guests.

The duke and duchess received the congratulations of their friends in the large reception room overlooking Fifth avenue. This room was decorated with a veil of orchids and vases, and the duke and duchess stood before a bank of green.

The large mantle in the hall was banked with American Beauties and yellow orchids. Deep red roses were intertwined through the fretwork at the sides of the great stairway. To describe the floral beauty of every room would be almost impossible.

Cut Cake With Sword.

The refreshments were exceedingly simple, consisting chiefly of sandwiches and small cakes. The bride's cake was made in the English fashion of turrets, and the duke cut it with his sword.

The duke and duchess left for Newport late in the afternoon in a special car, and there, at Ochre Point, the Golet villa, they will spend the early days of their honeymoon. The villa has been thoroughly gone over for the duke and duchess, and much of it has been refurbished. They will be practically alone at Newport, for the fashionable set has deserted the resort for the city. Carriages and automobiles are in readiness, and the preparations are evidently for many country drives. Considerable secrecy has been maintained concerning the day of departure for Europe, but it is said that the duke and duchess will sail within two weeks. Cabins have already been reserved on one of the big ocean liners.

The honeymoon will be continued in Floors castle, the English estate of the duke. There the many presents from friends in Europe are awaiting them, and it is likely that the duke and duchess will spend most of the winter at the castle.

Gifts Worth More Than a Million.
The value of the splendid wedding gifts was estimated at $1,500,000. Jewels predominated. The Roxburgh family jewels, which include one of the finest collections of emeralds in Europe, were given by the bridegroom. These consisted of a superb emerald necklace, with pendants, several tiaras with the strawberry leaf insignia of the duchess rank, brooches, bracelets and old fashioned sprays and rings. These will be reset under the duchess' direction. They were not brought to this country for the wedding, being left in the strong boxes of the Roxburghs in Scotland.

The Duchess of Roxburgh's gifts include a head ornament of diamonds, a beautiful emerald ring and an old French fan, set with jewels. Robert Golet's gift to his sister is a tiara of diamonds, and from the grandparents of Miss Golet, Mr. and Mrs. Richard T. Wilson, there is a stomacher of emeralds and diamonds of fine design.

The bridesmaids all sent handsome gifts. From Lady Isabel Innes-Ker there is a miniature of the duke, set in jewels. Miss Martha Johnson's gift was a bracelet, set with diamonds and other jewels. From Miss Beatrice Mills there was a pendant of diamonds and turquoise. Miss Theres Iselin, a bracelet of diamonds and turquoise; Miss Nina Thayer, a fan of white ostrich feathers, with white shell sticks, set with the bride's monogram in diamonds; Miss Alice Babcock, a diamond bar pin; Miss Marion Haven, a ring set with sapphires and diamonds; and Miss Pauline Whittier, a clock of Russian enamel.

A Union of Distinguished Families.
The Duke of Roxburgh is a Scottish peer. The duke is Marquis of Bournemouth and Caversham, Earl of Roxburgh, Earl of Kelso, Viscount Broxmouth, Baron Roxburgh, Baron Ker of Cessford and Caversham in Scotland and Earl Innes in the United Kingdom. He sits in the house of lords as Earl Innes and is an aid-de-camp to the Prince of Wales. His family is one of the oldest and most distinguished in England and was very close to the throne during Queen Victoria's reign.

The duke was born on July 25, 1876, and succeeded to the title on the death of his father, the seventh duke, in 1892. The ducal estates are Floors castle, Kelso, Roxburgh and Broxmouth Park, Dunbar and Haddingtonshire. There have been various claimants to the dukedom, among them one Ker, a truckman of this city.

The present duke's mother, who was Lady Anne Emily Spencer-Churchill, was extra lady of the bedchamber to Victoria and mistress of the robes. She is an aunt of the present Duke of Marlborough. The duke made a colonial tour in 1901. In the South African war as a lieutenant of the Argyll and Sutherland highlanders he distinguished himself greatly. At one time during a retirement under fire the duke galloped back into the zone of danger and rescued, by taking up behind him on his horse, another soldier who had been left behind without a mount. At the coronation of King Edward the duke carried Queen Alexandra's crown.

Miss May Golet is the daughter of the late Ogden Golet. She is about twenty-five years old and heiress to a fortune variously estimated at more than $40,000,000. Most of her life has been spent abroad, and she made her debut in London a few years ago. Her mother is a daughter of R. T. Wilson and a sister of Lady Herbert, wife of the late British ambassador, and of Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. Rumors of Miss Golet's engagement to various men of title were at different times circulated during her recent years abroad. The Duke of Manchester, Prince Hugo von Hohenlohe, the Princes Henry of Orleans and Henry of Teck, the Earl of Shaftesbury, Captain Oswald Ames, said to be the handsomest man in the English army, and Viscount Inglesre were among those mentioned in this way.

Duke's Tenants Celebrate.
Dunbar, Scotland, Nov. 11.—East Lothian, or Haddingtonshire, enjoyed a holiday in honor of the Duke of Roxburgh's wedding to Miss May Golet. The towns were decorated, the church bells pealed and the inhabitants gathered at various places. The town of Dunbar, near which Broxmouth Park, one of the duke's seats, is situated, cabined its congratulations to the bridegroom.

Funeral of W. L. Elkins.
Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—The funeral of William L. Elkins was attended by many of the wealthiest and most influential men in the eastern section of the country. The services were conducted by Rev. J. T. Cole, rector of St. Paul's P. E. church, in a black draped room of the Elkins mansion at Ashbourne, and the body was laid away in the family mausoleum at Laurel Hill cemetery without ceremony.

Rexall Cherry Juice Cough Syrup.
A new scientific cough cure, totally unlike old-fashioned remedies. It is exceedingly pleasant to the taste and remarkably quick in its curative action. Price, 25c. Red Cross Pharmacy.

WORK OF CONGRESS

President Roosevelt's Special Message to Congress.

BRIEF BUT STRONG PAPER.

Senate and House Held Short Sessions, at Which Document is Read—Cannon Appoints Committees.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The session of the senate was devoted exclusively to the reading of the president's message in support of reciprocity with Cuba and to the routine incident to the receipt of the message. The session lasted for only about fifteen minutes. The attendance of senators was exceptionally large, and many appeared with large rolls of freshly prepared bills in front of them. After the conclusion of the prayer with which the session opened, Mr. Hoar, from the committee appointed to wait upon the president, reported that the committee had been requested to notify the senate that the president would transmit a communication in writing during the day.

Mr. Hoar had scarcely taken his seat when Assistant Secretary Barnes was recognized to present the president's message, which was read by Secretary Bennett.

The message received the careful attention of the senators, and when its reading had been concluded Mr. Cullom (Ill.) was recognized to move the reference to the committee on foreign relations of the message and the Cuban treaty, the text of which had been transmitted with the message.

This motion prevailed, and it had no sooner been disposed of than upon motion of Mr. Allison (Ia.) the senate, at 12:15 o'clock, adjourned.

Presidential Appointments.
The president has sent the following nominations to the senate, original appointments:

To be consul, Thomas J. Cummins, New York, at Puerto Cabello, Venezuela.

Justice, United States circuit court for the Eighth judicial circuit, William C. Hook, Kansas.

Associate Justice of the supreme court of the District of Columbia, Daniel Thew Wright, Ohio.

Treasurer, collector of customs, David M. Little, for the district of Salem and Beverly, Mass.

Deputy auditor for the treasury department, Aloysius E. Bowling, Maryland.

Passed assistant surgeon in the public health and marine hospital service, Assistant Surgeon Matthew K. Guyn, Maryland.

All of the above nominations are original appointments. In addition many recess appointments were sent to the senate. These include foreign ministers, consuls, judicial officers, army and navy promotions and, in fact, officials in every department of the government, who were appointed since congress adjourned last spring.

Speaker Cannon called the house to order promptly at 12 o'clock, the hour fixed for the beginning of the daily sessions.

Following the reading of the journal Charles W. Thompson of Alabama was sworn in as a member of the house. Mr. Tawney (Minn.), for the committee appointed by the speaker to wait on the president to inform him of the presence of a quorum in the two houses ready to receive any communication he might have to make, reported having waited on the president and that the president had advised the committee that he would at once transmit a message in writing.

House Committees Appointed.
A joint resolution offered by Mr. Hemenway (Ind.) making immediately available the appropriations for mileage of senators and members of the house of representatives was passed. Provision is made authorizing the speaker to designate some one from among those appointed by him to sign in his name under his direction all certificates for salary and accounts for traveling expenses, thus saving the speaker a vast amount of labor.

Mr. Barnes, assistant secretary to the president, bearing a message from the president, was announced. The president's message was then read and was received with applause from the Republican side.

Following its reading the speaker announced the following committees:

Rules.—The speaker, Daize (Rep. Pa.), Grosvenor (Rep. O.), Williams (Dem. Miss.), De Armond (Dem. Mo.), Milage.—Reeder (Kan.), Jackson (Md.), Flack (N. Y.), Lewis (Ga.), Butler (Mo.). The first three are Republicans and the last two Democrats.

Resolutions of respect to the memory of Mr. Forrester of Pennsylvania and Mr. Boreing of Kentucky were adopted, and as a further mark of respect the house adjourned.

Speaker Cannon has reappointed Ascher C. Hinds of Maine as clerk to the speaker's table. He has selected L. W. Busbey, correspondent of the Chicago Inter Ocean, as private secretary to the speaker.

The caucus of Republican senators authorized Senator Allison, the chairman, to appoint a committee to reorganize the senate committees. A resolution declaring that the committee on inter-oceanic canals should be a majority committee, with a Republican as chairman, was not adopted, but the whole matter was left with the committee on committees, with the understanding that such action should be taken. This will displace Senator Morgan as chairman of the committee.

THE DAUGHTER OF PROF. RENO

OF ELWOOD, IND., RESTORED TO HEALTH BY VINOL.

Mrs. Reno's Letter and Advice to Mothers, Published by Request of Rickert & Wells.

Mrs. Reno says: "Our daughter Marion was troubled with indigestion; she became fretful, could not sleep at night, lost flesh, and we feared that we should lose her. We tried different doctors, and many kinds of medicines, with no apparent success, until we tried Vinol. Two bottles cured our little daughter; she can eat anything, sleeps well and has gained flesh. We think it is the best medicine in the world for children. I advise every mother who has an ailing child to try Vinol. I know nothing equals it, and it tastes so good there is no trouble in getting children to take it."

A reporter of the Times asked Mr. Wells, of the firm of Rickert & Wells of this city, who are selling so much Vinol, regarding it. Mr. Wells assured the writer that this is only one of a great many such cases that are constantly coming to their attention where Vinol has actually saved the lives of children when all else had failed. "You know, of course," said Mr. Wells, "Vinol is not a patent medicine, and it contains all the medicinal, curative elements of cod liver oil, without the nauseating oil; it is delicious to take, and will make rich, pure, red blood, sound flesh and muscle tissue, and create strength and health more surely and quickly than anything we have ever sold in our store."

"In the strongest manner we unhesitatingly endorse and guarantee Vinol to increase the appetite, cure stomach troubles, give strength and renewed vitality to the aged, build up the run down, tired and debilitated, make the weak strong, cure chronic coughs, colds and build up the convalescent, or will return to the purchaser every dollar paid for it. We just wish every mother in Barre who has a sick, pany or ailing child would try Vinol on our guarantee." Rickert & Wells, Druggists.

CONFERENCE ON PANAMA

Senator Hanna Meets With President and Cabinet.

DECISION IS NOT DISCLOSED.

Ohio Statesman Declares, However, That the Canal Will Certainly Be Built—A New Treaty Probable.

Washington, Nov. 11.—An important conference concerning the Panama situation was held at the White House just prior to the formal meeting of the cabinet. The participants in the conference were President Roosevelt, Senator Hanna and members of the cabinet. The decision reached, if any, was not disclosed. It is understood, however, that the discussion was purely informal and not intended in any manner to be decisive.

Shortly before the hour of the meeting of the cabinet Senator Hanna arrived at the executive offices, accompanied by W. J. Curtis, a member of the law firm of Sullivan & Cromwell of New York, attorneys in this country for the new Panama Canal company. They were admitted to the president's private office at once.

M. PHILIPPE DUNAP-VARELLA. [Panama's envoy at Washington.]

As Senator Hanna left the White House he chatted frankly. He said that he and the president had not discussed the question of the chairmanship of the Republican national committee. "In fact," said he, "that matter was not mentioned today. It's a dead issue anyhow."

"We talked of a variety of topics," continued the senator, "among them the Panama situation. That is not a political question, not even a technical one. The people of this country want an isthmian canal built, and they want it built by the Panama route. They have accepted the Panama route, and they propose to stand by the president in the matter of constructing the canal by that route."

Senator Hanna was asked whether in his opinion it would be necessary to enact new legislation to provide for negotiations between the United States and the republic of Panama for the construction of a canal. He replied that that was a question for a lawyer to answer. He felt that a new treaty would be necessary, of course, but did not think serious difficulty would be encountered in negotiating a canal treaty with Panama.

Glass Reaches Panama.

The navy department is advised that Rear Admiral Glass, commanding the Pacific station, has arrived at Panama with the cruiser Marblehead and the gunboat Concord, having made a quick run from Acapulco. Their consort, the monitor Wyoming, was not able to keep up with the two other vessels and probably will not reach Panama before Thursday. By virtue of his rank, Admiral Glass will have supreme command over the naval forces in the vicinity of Panama, and in case of a juncture of the forces at Panama and Colon he would have command of all operations.

With the exception of a brief cablegram from Admiral Glass announcing his arrival at Panama no cablegrams were received overnight by the state and navy departments, so it is presumed that the statu quo is being maintained there. There is no expectation here of a hostile clash on the isthmus in the immediate future, for it is believed that the Colombian government, when fully advised of what has happened, will accept the inevitable.

The state department has been notified that the Colombian government has established a censorship over cablegrams destined for the interior of Colombia reaching Buenaventura. This practically cuts off free communication between Bogota, the capital of Colombia, and the outside world. It may delay communication with United States Minister Beaupre, but the United States government will not submit to any suppression of its dispatches so long as the telegraph route is open at all.

France Recognizes New Republic.

Paris, Nov. 11.—The French government has recognized the de facto government of the republic of Panama. The instructions forwarded by Foreign Minister Delcasse to the French consul at Panama authorize him to have relations with the new government. The instructions are substantially the same as those sent from Washington to the United States consul at Panama.

City Physician Burned to Death.

Amsterdam, N. Y., Nov. 11.—Dr. E. B. Lake, one of the city physicians, has died from burns received in his room, where he was found in terrible agony with practically his whole body blistered. The fire did slight damage, and whether it was started with suicidal intention is a mystery officials are unable to solve, although this is surmised. Lake came to Amsterdam two years ago from Delhi, Delaware county, where for years he was a prominent practitioner. His wife, whose mind has become weakened, is now there.
